The trek from Kharta to Kangshung is probably a best trek for lover of adventurous and all geographical scenery. The highest point on this trek is the Langma La Pass (5,320 meters), which offers outstanding views of Makalu, Lhotse and Mt. Everest. In summer, the land becomes a green sea of alpine grasses and flowers. The entire region from the Kharta to the Kama Valley, extending to the Arun Valley in Nepal, is one of the parts of the blessed land of Guru Rinpoche, known as "Belyul Khebalung", or the Hidden Valley. Before we fly back to Kathmandu we spend a couple of days in Lhasa exploring the heart and soul of Tibet and object of devout pilgrimage. This adventure offers an incredible insight into the beauty and culture of the 'snow land' Tibet. Nowhere in the Himalayas can the immense height of Mount Everest (8848m), the highest point on earth, be appreciated as it can be in Tibet. This challenging trek visits the Kharta Valley, Everest, Cho Oyu Base Camp and Balung Ri as well.
